

High Tunnel Workshop

November 1, 2018

10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

For more information

616-510-1221

High tunnel workshop agenda:

Lunch will be provided • No cost to attend

- How to Grow in a High Tunnel

Lewis Jett, West Virginia University
Extension Specialist

- Future Training in Conservation
Business, and Next Generation Planning

Peg Kohring, The Conservation Fund

Ramella Park Community Garden of Eatn'

(Across from Williamson Towers)

Fourth Avenue, Williamson, WV, 25661

For more information contact Peg Kohring,
616-510-1221 or pkohring@conservationfund.org

Conservation Fund Training Opportunities

Are you a veteran farmer, farmer of color, limited-resource farmer or beginning farmer who wants to plan your operation holistically? The Conservation Fund is now offering training available to help you access capital, financial planning, and conservation planning thanks to a grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture

You will gain the confidence to:

- Access Natural Resource Conservation Service
- Environmental Quality Incentives programs (EQUIP)
- Develop a business plan
- Apply for capital financing to accelerate your business goals

The sessions will be held in groups based on interest by agricultural producers. If your business involves several generations, you are welcome to bring several people in your family or business partners.

THE CONSERVATION FUND

