Dear Educator,

We invite you to participate in the 2012 WV Envirothon. This outdoor event is open to all eligible West Virginia high school students or privately schooled students and their teachers. The annual event brings students, teachers, and resource professionals together in the spirit of competition and conservation. In doing so, young people are provided meaningful learning experiences and skills that they will carry with them into their future.

The 2012 WV Envirothon will be held at the Flatwoods Nature Trail and the Days Inn at Flatwoods, WV on April 19th and 20th. Thursday, April 19th has been set aside as the teaching day, during which teams will learn more about the four main testing areas (Aquatics, Forestry, Soils and Wildlife) in preparation for competition.

Competition for the fifth topic current environmental issue will also take place on Thursday April 19th. Teams are required to participate in the teaching day activities. Competition for the four main testing areas will take place on Friday April 20th. A draft schedule is enclosed.

The WV Envirothon Committee would like to encourage you and your students to participate in this year's competition. A registration form is enclosed, or you can print it from our website at <http://www.wvca.us/envirothon>, complete it and drop it in the mail. Registered teams will receive an advisors packet containing important contest information.

If you would like to learn more about the West Virginia Envirothon, please visit the website, or contact Chairman Bob Buchanan at 304-679-5549, or Secretary Shirley Hyre at 304-364-8424.

Thank you for your consideration. We hope to see you at the 2012 WV Envirothon!

Sincerely,

Bob Buchanan, Chairman
WV Envirothon Committee
