Program Eligibility

Definition:

Frost seeding is an economical method of improving pasture and hay fields by broadcasting the seed on frozen ground. As the ground freezes and thaws, it opens and closes, allowing the seed to be incorporated into the soil. This keeps the seed from germinating until there is a good moisture supply early in the spring.

Purpose:

Frost seeding legumes and grasses is increasingly being used to improve pasture yields or change forage species composition within the pasture. Frost seeding offers several potential advantages. These include the ability to establish forages with a minimum equipment investment, a shortened “non-grazing” period, and it is a method to maintain stands at productive levels with both grasses and legumes.
